Fairfield University
Volume 29

An institution is often the lengthened shadow of one man.

– Emerson

The 1979 Manor Editorial Board is proud to dedicate this book to Rev. Thomas R. Fitzgerald, SJ, for his outstanding service as President of Fairfield University since 1973. We are indebted to this man for his determination, compassion, and total involvement with the maintenance and progress of the quality of our lives and educations. As he leaves the post of President to accept the same at St. Louis University, we are aware that their gain is our loss. Still, we are grateful for the time shared together, and wish him sincere good wishes in the days to come.

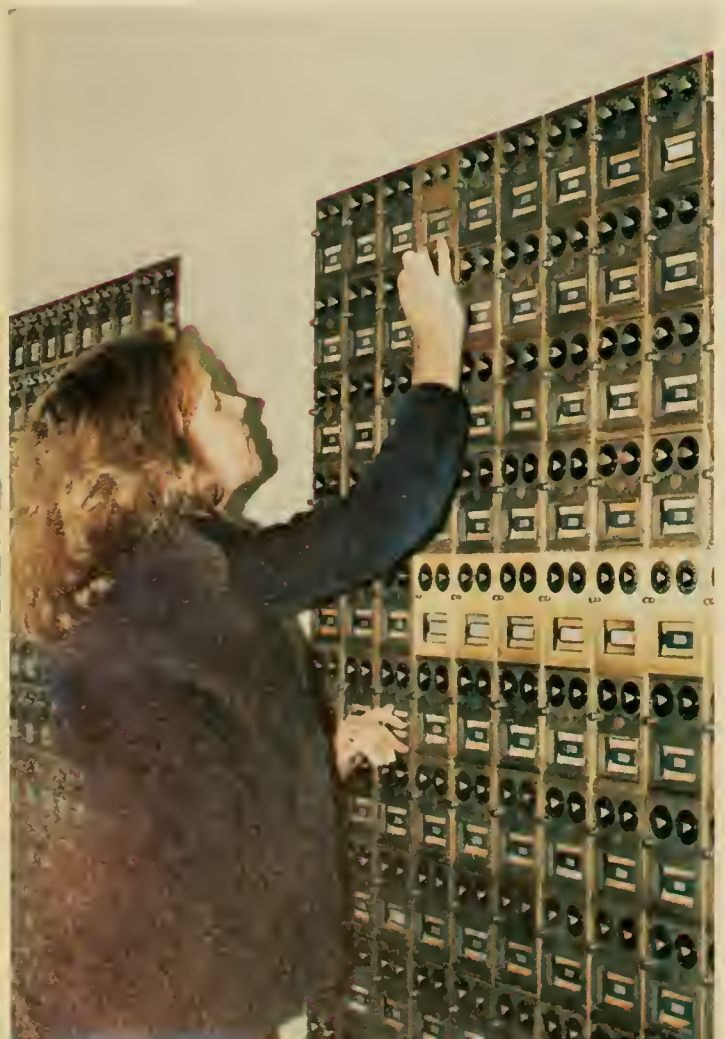
FAIRFIELD



LORIETA
SUSIE

All the world's a stage
and all the men and women merely players;
they have their exits and their entrances,
and one man in his time plays many parts.
His acts being seven ages. At first the infant... and then the whining schoolboy, with his satchel, and shining morning face, creeping like a snail, unwillingly to school.
And then the lover, sighing like a furnace, with a woeful ballad made to his mistress' eyebrow.
Then a soldier full of strange oaths, and bearded like the pard...
And so he plays his part.
The sixth age shifts...
turning again toward childish treble, pipes and whistles in his sound.
Last scene of all, that ends this strange, eventful history, is second childishness, and mere oblivion..
Sans teeth, sans eyes, sans taste,
Sans everything.

Fairfield University's Football Club had one of it's best years ever, not in terms of record, 3-5, but in terms of spirit. This spirit came not only from the players, but from the cheerleaders, coaching staff and more fans than ever seen before.

A factor in this spirit were the seniors; Co-Captain Vinnie O'Brien, Mike Robinson and Jim Anderson, who gave the club four dedicated years. Joe Mindur and John Walsh who have been gridmen for three years and newcomers Rob Robinson and Mike Fitzgerald.

All these people were factors in not only the wins (Liningston State, Hartford and bowl bound Siena), but also in the tight losses (Fitchburg, St. Francis, Western New England, Stonehill and Worcester State).

The '78-79 season was considered a success under president Sherwin Collins and despite the now defunct Irish Night, the memories of overnights, post-game parties, banquets and Mardi Gras will long be remembered by the footballers.

FAIRFIEI

Over the past four years at Fairfield, there were to individuals who seemed to stand out in the fields of athletics, just that much more than anyone else over those four years. They helped in a very instrumental way to help a rising program continue to grow. In any event, Joe DeSantis and Mark Young completed four years of Fairfield basketball this past winter, and there are no doubts that they helped tremendously in putting the name of Fairfield on the college map.

The Stags finished the season with a 17-9 record, hardly anything to scoff at, yet it was not good enough for a post-season tourney birth. This record could easily have been improved had the season been about one and one half minutes shorter. UConn, Yale, Florida, Holy Cross, St. Boneventure, Boston U. and Duquense all found ways to edge the Stags in the wanning seconds of the game. Eight wins in their final nine games didn't help Fred Barakat's club get into a tournament either.

Next year, with the addition of Notre Dame, Syracuse, South Carolina and the Marquette tourney, Fairfield will have its work cut out for themselves. For the first time in four years they won't cut out for themselves. For the first time in four years they won't be able to call on the services of the top two all-time scorers to bail them out. Chances are that DeSantis and Young will be somewhhere in the NBA showing off their talents we have appreciated for four years. DeSantis, the winner of four MVP awards this season and Young, possibly the top shooting center in the country, most certainly will make good in whatever they do in the future. They handled their four years at Fairfield rather admirably.

The soccer team finally made the transition they had been waiting for. After many years and many losses on the field, the Stags started on the winning track this year. But it was not evident from the start of the season. The team lost their first nine games, most of which were by only a goal or two, and all indications were towards another disasterous year. However after that ninth game things suddenly turned around for the Stags and their coach Jim Kuhlman.

A win at Manhattanville broke the losing streak, which started a new winning streak of four in a row. The booters finished up the campaign with five wins, one loss and a dramatic tie in overtime.

With this kind of momentum through the end of the season along with the fact the team loses no one to graduation, the team will be looking forward to a most exciting season. Many teams found themselves leaving the field against Fairfield breathing a sign of relief that they got out of the game with a win. In years past the team has most always been a pushover, but from the indications at the close of the 78-79 season, things are changing. With the addition of St. John's and the University of Rhode Island to the Stags slate next year, Fairfield could indeed make a mark on the Division I soccer scene.

ISSUES IN MEDICAL ETHICS

TUESDAY, APRIL 3
EUTHANASIA

Dr. Lisa Newton, Ph.D. Columbia University.
Associate Professor of Philosophy, Fairfield University

Dr Newton will approach the ethical problems involved in euthanasia through an examination of a number of case studies. After her presentation the audience will be invited to break into small groups to allow for discussion of the issues she has raised.

TUESDAY, APRIL 10
HOSPICE

Mr. Walter Ramshaw, M.S. Columbia University
Hospice Speakers Bureau

Mr. Ramshaw will speak and present a slide presentation on the organization and philosophy of Hospice. Hospice is a specialized health care program emphasizing the management of pain and other symptoms associated with terminal illness and providing care for the family as well as the patient. The program centers much of the caring process in the home and seeks to enable the patient to carry on an alert and pain-free existence.

TUESDAY, APRIL 17
PATIENT CENTERED CARE:
ETHICAL AND TECHNOLOGICAL INTRUSIONS

Dr Raymond Duff, M.D., Yale University
Professor, Department of Pediatrics,
Yale University School of Medicine

Dr Duff will focus on the historical factors in the development of paternalism in medical care and the specialization and institutionalism building upon paternalism. From this point he will turn to address the ethical problems arising out of such paternalism, especially in relation to the role of the patient and family in the medical decision making process

In one sense, there is no death. The life of a soul on earth lasts beyond its departure. You will always feel that life touching yours, that voice speaking to you, that spirit looking out of other eyes, talking to you in the familiar things he touched, worked with, loved as familiar friends. He lives on in your life and in the life of all others that knew him.

Record-breaking performances by pitcher Keefe Cato and second baseman Mike Beaudoin highlighted the 1979 Fairfield University Baseball season. Fairfield finished the campaign with a 21-12 record, the second consecutive 20-win season for coach Don Cook's Stags. The Stags also earned a berth in the ECAC New England Regional Tournament, the third straight year the Stags have been in the event.

Mike Beaudoin set a school record with seven home runs and he set a school and New England record with 43 runs batted in. His 83 career RBI are also a Stag record. Mike was twice named Player-of-the-Week during this past season, and ends a remarkable four-year career with a .320 batting average.

Billy Barnes, the Stags' base stealing king finished his career with 122 steals and 141 attempts.

Brendan Vane ends his four-year career with a host of batting records including; 15 homers, 137 hits, 26 doubles and 218 total bases.

The Editors extend sincere congratulations and best wishes to Mr. & Mrs. James and Phyllis Fitzpatrick.

— 23 June 1979 —

The support of our advertisers has in a large part made the publication of the 1979 Manor possible. At this point, the Editors wish to recognize the efforts of Timothy Cox, our Business Manager. We also wish to thank James Fitzpatrick, Donna Morrisson, Donna Schmidt and Paula Gilcreast for their assistance in acquiring advertising space. We especially thank the advertisers for their financial assistance and hope that you will continue to honor them with your patronage.

June 1979
Fairfield, CT.

Dear Reader,
It has been said that "words can only take a thought so far". In response to this, we, as an editorial board, have tried to capture Fairfield University in both words and photographs.

At this time it is appropriate to extend our appreciation to those who have been a part of this endeavor. First, to our editors for their diligent efforts throughout the year. And to Jim Findley, our Herff Jones Representative, for his support and guidance with publication. For their assistance in processing film and senior portraits, we recognize Delma Studios of New York City for their valuable contribution. As always, the mailroom crew of Mary, Helen, Kay and Charlie have been a tremendous help (especially in mailing out our deadlines). We also thank our moderator, Jim Fitzpatrick, and his secretary, Beatrice Staneko.

Finally, we thank you, the reader, for accepting our book as yours. We are hopeful that what it contains, both in word and photograph, is truly a reflection of Fairfield.
